

Time

We all know
that time, talent and treasure are key part of the Stewardship Way of Life.

And that means they are key parts of life here at Blessed Trinity parish.

What does that look like, in practice?
Today we look at the “time” part of “time,
talent and treasure.”

Time is perhaps the simplest thing we can give, and yet also the most difficult. We live busy lives. There are so many demands. Who can “find the time?”

People should think of us as Christ's servants, stewards entrusted with the mysteries of God.

(1 Corinthians 4:1)

Is that how people think of us? How can we achieve this? The Adoration Chapel is the perfect example: At BT, we never forget the importance of simply spending time in prayer in the presence of the Lord.

Give a lad a training suitable to his character and, even when old, he will not go back on it.

(Proverbs 22:6)

How to achieve this? By spending time together as a family, at home, during meals and in prayer. Along the same lines, Fr. Pat says each married couple should spend time together with a weekly date.

As long as day lasts we must carry out the work of the one who sent me;
the night will soon be here when no one can work. (John 9:4)

The days can be long at the Brothers Keeper Soup Kitchen & Store. But the people who serve there always find time to spend with clients.

The days can be long during the Covenant Mission Team's trips. But the team members are happy to give their time --- going a great distance to help people who are in need.

How important is time? Like everything else, it is a gift that must be used wisely.

For we brought nothing in the world, just as we shall not be able to take anything out of it.
(1 Timothy 6: 7-9)
